

MISS GILLESPIE DEAD.

Rumored That She Made Known the Identity of The Assassin--Many Have Theories as to the Perpetrator of the Crime.

Rising Sun, Ind., Dec. 11.—Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, the victim of an unknown assassin, died yesterday afternoon. She never recovered consciousness. A report, which cannot, however, be confirmed, is that in the last few hours she murmured the name of her slayer. If she did so the secret is kept by the watchers around her bedside, who may tell before the grand jury what happened. The little town is in a frenzy of excitement and rage. The popularity of Miss Gillespie, her gentleness and kindness and her efforts to advance the educational interests of her neighbors and friends has made the brutal murder the most startling crime that has ever taken place in this section of Indiana.

Hope for the recovery of the young woman was abandoned from the time she was shot, and the authorities started at once on the vigorous inquiry which is still in progress, but which has brought no tangible results. Suspicion seems to point to one person, and it is alleged that the motive for the murder is well known, but to charge so flimsy a crime against any one without absolute proof as to guilt is more than any officer of the law has the temerity to do. The story of the empty shell found only a short distance from Miss Gillespie's home has been related. Upon this slender thread a chain of circumstantial evidence has been built up, in which, however, some essential links are still missing.

The community believes that it certainly knows who assassinated Elizabeth Gillespie, but they do not say so aloud. Miss Gillespie and her twin brother, James, have been on bad terms for years. The gossip can even tell just what all the trouble was about.

When Dr. Gillespie, the father, died he willed his estate in such a way as to cause a quarrel between the members of the family.

James left the parental roof and went to live with his sister, Mrs. Seward, across the street from his mother. To intensify the feeling a short time ago the aged mother is said to have transferred the homestead and her property to her unmarried daughter, who had always lived with her and sought to make happy and comfortable her declining years. James Gillespie and Elizabeth have not spoken for nearly two years.

It has leaked out that some months ago Miss Gillespie saw the face of a man at the window gazing into her room. Brave girl that she was, and even though the hour was late, she grappled with the intruder, and he left her. It is said that she told Marshal Overly who the miscreant was, and many believe that the same man who peered at her on that night is the same man who shot her down. All those who might tell something that would throw light upon the awful tragedy are keeping their information for the grand jury, which is now in session. The members of that body visited the scene of the tragedy and heard a few witnesses. More than 40 persons have been summoned to testify.

The community is confident that a true bill will be returned against the

ELIJAH'S

MANTLE HAS DESCENDED UPON STILL ANOTHER.

This Time a Woman Claims to be the True Re-incarnation of the Tishbite Secer.

Campden, Ky., Dec. 11.—"I am the true reincarnation of Elijah, the prophet. How, in spite of his claims, is a fraud and a pretender." Such is the claim of Miss Adelaide Strutton, a woman of mystery, now holding revival services in a tent at Tar Ridge. Where the woman came from no one knows. She appeared at Tar Ridge one day, set up her tent and went to preaching. At first she says to herself is that she is the only true prophet.

"The end of the world is near at hand," declares Miss Strutton. "I have been sent to earth to prepare the people for the coming of judgment day. From heaven I came, and thence will I go when my mission is fulfilled. Prepare for the end, for it is near at hand."

Even the lower animals, declares the new prophet, have souls and will at death go either to heaven or to hell. Residents of Tar Ridge who have attended the services conducted by the mysterious woman are greatly excited. Marvellous power possessed by the woman, or else a vivid imagination by persons suffering from illness, which has added to the prestige of Miss Strutton, who, however, is not conducting the revival as a money making scheme.

SOFT-HEARTED PAL

RUINS VILE PLOT

Rome, Dec. 11.—One of the strangest of crimes had a most dramatic solution yesterday.

A young man named Beretta, a millionaire of Milan, was invited by the Chevalier Angelo Vecchio to his villa outside of Milan on a pretext.

Once there, Beretta was seized and bound and obliged, with a revolver pointing at his head, to make a will leaving his fortune to Vecchio, besides writing a letter saying he had committed suicide.

Vecchio then left the villa, after instructing an accomplice to drown Beretta the next day.

Vecchio's accomplice softened and he let Beretta at liberty and Vecchio, who read in the newspapers that his plot had been discovered, committed suicide.

ROOSEVELT

BOOMERS ARE BUSY TODAY IN WASHINGTON.

National Republican Committeemen Almost Unanimous for Chicago as Convention City.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 11.—A mighty Roosevelt chorus is swelling from the corridors of the Arlington hotel where the Republican national committee began a two days' session at noon today, and it is being taken up in every corner of the capital, wherever members of the Republican party can be found. With the Roosevelt refrain comes a bar or so of praise for Senator Hanna. The Senator smiles benignly whenever he hears the strains but resolutely refuses to grant his followers the wink of an eye to indicate that he would accept the presidential nomination under any circumstances or conditions. Almost as unanimous are the committeemen for Chicago as the convention city as they are for Roosevelt as the standard bearer of the party.

Gen. Brayton of Rhode Island introduced a resolution to reduce the representation in national conventions. It will not affect the representation in the convention of 1904 but if adopted will be in force in 1908. The plan is aimed at the South to reduce the representation by having four delegates at large for each state and one additional delegate for each 10,000 votes or majority thereof cast at the last preceding election. The matter will probably be laid over.

HANNA DECLINES.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Strong arguments were used with Senator M. A. Hanna by members of the National Republican committee to declare himself a candidate for the presidential nomination.

Of a dozen members of the committee who called on the Senator during the day a majority tried to persuade him that he ought not to hold back any longer, but should announce his entry in the race against President Roosevelt.

The Senator declined to be led into the assertion that he would become a candidate.

BOOMING ROOSEVELT.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Speaker Cannon, of the House, was called on by fifty Chicago boomers. In a brief speech he said: "The work for that convention is cut out. The multitude of people are for Roosevelt. It makes no difference how some man here or there may feel, the people are for him. Another man whom we all love and honor, a statesman and great business man whose name it is not necessary to mention, will co-operate with me and with the multitude in electing Roosevelt."

Speaker Cannon was cheered heartily.

VIEW AT WAR DEPARTMENT.

Washington, Dec. 11.—At the War department the officials, although not possessed of facts in the case, doubt the accuracy of the statements attributed to General MacArthur, wherein he is made to say some things of possibly unpleasant international consequences concerning war with Germany. Should the matter be brought formally or informally to the attention of the department explanation will be asked of the General. As indicated by his denial in this morning's cable from Honolulu, he will reply, claim a misquotation and thereafter it will end.

NORDICA

GREAT AMERICAN SINGER SUES FOR ABSOLUTE DIVORCE.

Has Cancelled All Her Engagements—Details of Her Marital Trouble Are Not Known.

New York, Dec. 11.—News has come out that Madame Lillian Nordica, the American prima donna, has begun a suit for absolute divorce from her husband, Zoltan Doeme, and that the suit will be tried in this city. Mr. Doeme arrived in this country two weeks ago and was served with the papers in the suit at the pier. Madame Nordica has cancelled all her engagements and is stopping with friends near this city. Mr. Doeme is at present in a sanitarium and said to be suffering from nervous collapse. Friends say that there has been trouble between Madame Nordica and her husband for over a year and efforts to make peace between them have failed. Details of the trouble between the pair are closely held and it is said no one knows except the lawyers in the case.

Zoltan Doeme, who is a member of a prominent Hungarian family, is a singer of some note. He was wedded to Madame Nordica in Indianapolis on May 26, 1895. Madame Nordica's first husband was Frederick A. Gower, a wealthy electrician, and they were married in Paris in 1882. They did not live happily together and a suit for separation was instituted in 1885. The trial was postponed, and in 1887 Gower lost his life while attempting to cross the English channel in a balloon. Madame Nordica was born in Mainz, Germany, and her name was Lillian Norton. She is best known in Wagnerian roles.

HANGED

Is the Murderer of Officer McCrea at Peoria Today.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 11.—John McCrea, colored, was hanged here this morning for the murder of Detective William Murphy. On the night of June 23 last McCrea was placed under arrest by Murphy for larceny and, drawing a revolver, shot the officer, inflicting a wound from which he died in half an hour. On that and the succeeding nights mobs gathered at the jail intent upon lynching, but McCrea was secretly taken to Galesburg, where he was kept until the public wrath had cooled.

FIGHT IS ON

TO HAVE SHIPBUILDING COMBINE INVESTIGATED.

Harris, Gates & Co. Sued on Famous Dresser Check and Complaint Filed—Fraud Charged.

New York, Dec. 11.—The first gun in the fight to be made by the Commonwealth Trust Company against the shipbuilders of the United States Shipbuilding Company, was fired yesterday afternoon, when notice was served on Harris, Gates & Co. that suit had been brought against them for the recovery of $750,000.

The Commonwealth Trust Company is a reorganization of the Trust company of the Republic, of which D. Le Roy Dresser was formerly president.

From the testimony given in the United States Shipbuilding Company hearings it was brought out that in the case of Harris, Gates & Co. on September 10, 1902, the Trust company of the Republic deposited $750,000 with that firm as an interest bearing account, and it further appeared that previous arrangement had been made by which Harris, Gates & Co. should make a loan of $750,000 to Mr. Dresser and Lewis Nixon.

They were known as the heads of the shipbuilding syndicate.

Similar arrangements were made with other banks. It was stated that while this would appear as a simple bank transaction, whereby Harris, Gates & Co. were responsible to the Trust Company of the Republic for the return of $750,000, they would also have to take the risk, as they did the profits, of the loan to Dresser and Nixon for the same amount.

Harris, Gates & Co., as well as the other institutions, sought it is said, to put the risk back on the Trust Company of the Republic, by having Mr. Dresser sign, in the name of the Trust Company, instructions to loan this money to himself and Nixon, guaranteeing the transaction.

The contention is now made that the Trust Company of the Republic could not have legally loaned this money to Mr. Dresser, because he was president of the company.

The legality of the transaction will turn upon whether or not the directors of the Trust Company of the Republic were fully cognizant of these transactions, or whether Dresser made them on his own responsibility.

Counsel for Harris, Gates & Co. says the suit is utterly baseless, and Harris, Gates & Co. will press it for trial at the earliest possible opportunity.

Other like suits to determine the disposition of money paid out by the Trust Company of the Republic are to follow this. The purpose is not only to recover the money, but to lay bare the transactions connected with floating the shipbuilding company.

A complaint was filed in the office of the county clerk in which John A. C. Norris, Cyrus R. Lewis, James C. Mills, James J. McGuirk, John Young and Adolph Zelig appear as plaintiffs in a suit to have the United States Shipbuilding Company declared insolvent, a receiver appointed and an injunction granted restraining any interference with the assets of the corporation or any disbursements of its officials.

The complaint says the plaintiffs are owners of stocks and bonds amounting to $75,000. It alleges that Charles M. Schwab, acting as agent for J. P. Moran & Co. received and retained without payment of value for it $20,000,000 of the stock, and that other stock was distributed among the shareholders of the companies acquired, and Daniel LeRoy Dresser, Lewis Nixon, Max Pam and others, without due consideration being received. The plan of reorganization is denounced, and in view of the small values of the properties held by the subsidiary companies is characterized as a fraud upon the public.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The House today in committee of the whole met to consider the pension appropriation bill. The amount carried in the bill is $138,150,300. Mr. Van Vorhis of Ohio, in charge of the bill, said the amount of this bill was a decrease and the opinion of the committee was that there will be a substantial decrease from now on in the yearly appropriations to pay pensions.

STATE BOARD

Of Commerce Convened in Columbus January 7.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—The Ohio State Board of Commerce will meet in annual session in this city on January 7-8. The meeting will be an important one, as legislative matters will be given attention. The board will take up the question of the fee or salary systems for county officers and the primary election laws.

These questions will be discussed by many of the ablest men in the state.

The business sessions will comprise the adoption of a new constitution for the state board, the annual election of officers and the appointment of three important legislative committees, viz: On Business Corporation Laws, on Industrial and on Taxation.

MARINES

FROM NORTH ATLANTIC SQUADRON SENT TO PANAMA

To Prevent an Advance of the Colombian Army—Four More Countries Have Recognized Panama.

Washington, Dec. 11.—(Bulletin)—The Navy department today received a dispatch from Rear Admiral Glass, commanding the naval forces in the isthmian waters, in which he says there is a well defined rumor on the isthmus that a small body of Colombian troops has been landed at the mouth of the Arato river.

Washington, D. C. Dec. 11.—Nothing further of an official character concerning the reported movement of Colombian troops upon the isthmus has been received at the State department.

At the Navy department it was announced that the marine contingent on the isthmus would be re-enforced by 300 men now on the Pacific, orders having been sent to Admiral Barter, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, now at Guantanamo, to dispatch the Pacific to the isthmus. She will leave today and will reach Colon by Monday next. It is felt that, thus re-enforced, the marines now on the isthmus will be fully competent to preserve order and to prevent any demonstration.

Admiral Coghlan, at Colon, has transferred his flag from the converted cruiser Mayflower to the auxiliary cruiser Dixie. The Mayflower has gone on a cruise along the San Blas coast and to obtain reports from the cruiser Atlanta and the gunboat Bancroft. The Atlanta is patrolling the eastern end of the San Blas coast and the Bancroft the western end.

The United States gunboat Castine, in charge of Commander Knight, left League Island Navy Yard yesterday, under sealed orders. It is believed she is bound for Colon.

The State department was informed that Belgium, Austria, Hungary and Denmark had recognized the republic of Panama. It is learned from Paris that President Marroquin of Colombia is backing an anti-Panama campaign in France, which is threatening a split within the Panama Canal company.

The Navy department has now a force of probably 2,000 men at or near the isthmus and the coast north and south of the isthmus is well patrolled for the interception and the forcible detention of Colombian transports of war.

Another move of the government was the ordering east from San Francisco of the Fifteenth cavalry.

Army officers said that should "emergency arise" in isthmian affairs very likely the Second cavalry's destination might be suddenly switched from Manila to Colon.

DEEDS OF OUTLAWRY

Predicted by Colorado's Adjutant General--Says the Custer Massacre Will be a Shadow to What Is Liable to Happen in the Coal Fields.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 11.—Wild and fantastic are the dreams of Adjutant General Sherman Bell. He looks for terrible and bloody deeds in the coal district. The following is his bulletin:

"The massacre of Custer in Yellowstone Park will be but the shadow of summer clouds compared with what is liable to happen in the coal fields at any minute," said General Bell. "In Cripple Creek they have dynamite for a weapon, but in and around Trinidad the weapons used are mobs, six shooters and daggers."

"I look for awful things there. Trinidad is the hotbed for the Mafia. It is the head office for the foreign Anarchist of the Western country. People of all nations congregate there, and all they require is a desperate leader to incite them to deeds of bloodshed."

"Those fellows are liable to sweep the country and massacre hundreds. Of course a great many of them would get killed, but didn't Sitting Bull win out although many Indians had been killed before that memorable battle in Wyoming?"

"Those fellows are just as liable to set fire to coal mines as to do anything else. They might even blow up one of the mines and run it to such an extent that it could never be used again."

"I have given the unions one black eye in this state, and now they want the other fixed. If 200 or 300 of those fellows got killed there would be law and order there."

"I told a fellow yesterday who was talking about building a certain monument, that if he wanted to fix something that every man in the state would gladly contribute to, and that could be erected to a height beyond that of the state capitol, I told him to kill all these newspaper men off. I told him he could easily raise a million or more for that purpose in this state if he did the job. I could call for 10,000 volunteers to do certain things and I could get 75,000. A lot of these fellows could get fixed, and I would never be held for it."

General Bell further stated that the latest information from the seat of war at Cripple Creek was to the effect that seven prisoners confined in the bull pen have confessed to complicity in the blowing up of the Vindicator shaft, by which two men lost their lives.

He declined to reveal the names of these two men.

At Cripple Creek the hearing of the writ of habeas corpus granted by

NOTED TRAGEDY RECALLED

By the Death of H. Clay King in Southern Prison--Sentenced to Die Many Statesmen Were Interested in His Case.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 11.—When Colonel H. Clay King died in the state penitentiary yesterday the last chapter in one of the most noted tragedies in the history of Tennessee ended. King was sent to the penitentiary from Memphis on August 11, 1892, to serve a life sentence for the murder of David H. Poston, an attorney. The murder grew out of litigation against King by Poston for Mrs. Gideon J. Pillow, wife of the famous Confederate officer. Both King and Poston were widely known, the former being the author of "King's Legend of the Laws of Tennessee."

Up to the final trial and sentencing at King factional feeling ran high, and when the convicted man was taken from Memphis to Nashville, Poston's friends chartered a special train and endeavored to overtake King, with the avowed purpose of lynching him.

According to the theory of the state regarding this suit, King had abandoned his wife, had long sought to divorce her in order to marry Mrs. Pillow; had conveyed to the latter all his property and the litigation was an effort on his part to recover it. Poston represented Mrs. Pillow, which seriously reflected upon the character and honor of his wife, King claimed, though the court construed otherwise. On his trial he stated the effect of his pleading to have been the destruction of the happiness of himself and his wife, alleging "that his old acquaintances on the street avoided him," and "that the door bell ceased to ring."

King held Poston responsible for the statements in the answer, and after the tragedy sought to place himself in the attitude of a loyal and loving husband, championing the name and honor of a devoted wife.

The trial of the case consumed 31 days and ended in a verdict of death. Numerous exceptions were taken by the defense, on in particular being that during the trial the jury had taken a ferry boat ride on the Mississippi for recreation and on the trip had gone out of Tennessee and into Arkansas. In the exceptions the supreme court sustained the verdict and sentenced King to hang August 12, 1892.

The judgment was affirmed and at once a powerful movement was started by the defendant's family and friends to secure clemency.

Among the notable letters received by his family was one from Grover Cleveland, dated Buzzard's Bay, July 27, 1892, extending sympathy, but doubting the advisability of any recommendations from himself.

A long petition in behalf of King, presented to Governor Buchanan, was signed by John G. Carlisle, Kentucky; Daniel W. Voorhees, Indiana; Isham G. Harris, Tennessee; Jo C. S. Blackburn, Kentucky; Richard Coke, Texas; G. C. Vest, Missouri; Wilkinson Call, Florida; United States senators, B. A. Enloe, James D. Richardson, Rice A. Leare, Tennessee; W. C. P. Breckinridge, J. H. Goodnight, Kentucky; John H. Fellows, New York; C. B. Kilgore, J. W. Bailey, John B. Long, Lewis Stewart, J. D. Sayers, Charles Stewart, W. H. Crain, Texas; Paul C. Edmonds, Virginia; W. S. Forman, Ben T. Cable, Scott White, S. T. Bussey and Edward Lane, Illinois, congressmen.

There were also letters from Governor Hogg of Texas; Governor John Young Brown, of Kentucky; ex-Governor Simon Bolivar Buckner, of Kentucky, and L. H. Roots, of Colorado.

On August 9 Governor John P. Buchanan commuted the death sentence to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. The following night King had to be spirited away from Memphis to escape mob violence, while Buchanan's effigy was hanged to a telegraph pole at the corner of Main and Madison streets, the most central point in Memphis, and burned.

Since King entered prison on the morning of August 11, 1892, the work of his family and friends for a pardon has known no respite, the last efforts having been made shortly before his final illness set in. But the recommendation of the pardon in 1899 has been the nearest known approach to clemency that King has secured, though the record in the pardon case is possibly one of the largest known.

A Greater Discovery than Wireless Telegraphy

We look upon Rexall Mucu-Tone as a greater discovery than wireless telegraphy—greater than any other discovery of which we know.

Wireless telegraphy means easier, quicker, cheaper transmission of commercial, social and journalistic intelligence—means progress along business lines.

Rexall Mucu-Tone means life and health for twelve million American men and women now in the clutches of a most dangerous, most insidious disease—catarrh.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is the exact combination of medicinal drugs necessary to effect a prompt, safe, permanent cure of catarrh.

It is a triumph of Science—an absolutely new discovery in medicine—and its importance is realized when the awful effects and widespread existence of catarrh is considered.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membranes. It may seize upon head and throat, stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, or with women—the delicate organs of generation.

But wherever located, congestion of the mucous cells is the cause. Inflammation is followed by a discharge; the blood is poisoned; the membranes, muscles and bones slowly rot away.

Rexall Mucu-Tone

reaches the congested cells through the arteries and veins. It infuses sudden activity, causes a muscular expansion and contraction and thus forces them to expel the poisonous secretions.

At once these cells resume their natural functions, inflammation subsides; torn membranes heal; health is restored.

We have investigated thoroughly and we know Rexall Mucu-Tone positively cures catarrh in every form.

So confident are we of this that we invite catarrh sufferers to test it with the distinct understanding that if not cured, the Mucu-Tone they have taken shall cost them nothing.

ELECTRIC LINE

FROM NEWARK TO ZANESVILLE ALMOST FINISHED.

Lawyer F. W. Merrick Shows Where Ownership of the Various Interurban Lines Really Lies.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—Hon. F. W. Merrick, counsel for the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville Traction company, says that cars will be run from Newark to Zanesville some time next month, but the road will not be completed until some time later. The newspaper man then asked Mr. Merrick these questions:

"What connection has the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company with this new line?"

"Both companies are a part of the same system and are largely owned by the same parties."

"You mean the Appleyard syndicate?"

"No. Mr. Appleyard is not connected with either road, either as an officer, stockholder or bondholder; he is not in any way interested in either of these roads, nor in the Newark and Granville, Canton and Akron, Canton, New Philadelphia and Tuscarawas Traction companies. These companies are owned and financed by other interests, which are wholly distinct from the Appleyard properties."

"Does not Mr. Appleyard have control over these properties or the general supervision of them?"

"He does not."

"What roads are embraced in what is known as the Appleyard system?"

"The Columbus, London and Springfield, the Columbus, Grove City and Southwestern, the Central Market, the Dayton, Springfield and Urbana, the Bellefontaine and Northern, the Dayton and Western and the Dayton, Lebanon and Cincinnati are all considered as belonging to the Appleyard system, and under the general control of Mr. Appleyard."

"Is the Columbus, Delaware and Marion railroad embraced in the Appleyard syndicate?"

"It is not."

"The impression prevails with some people that the interurban lines centering in Columbus all belong to the same system and are under the same general control, and I presume from your statement that this is a mistake."

"Yes. This impression may have grown out of the fact that Mr. Appleyard had the contract to build the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company's road, and also the contract to build the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville railroad, and that at the time the franchise for the loop was granted to the Columbus, London and Springfield company, provision was made that other interurban lines entering the city should have the privilege of the use of this loop by paying to the owners of that company a reasonable compensation. Under this arrangement both the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company and the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric Railway company use the loop and the interurban station, paying for the same to the management of the Columbus, London and Springfield Railroad company."

"Mr. Richard Emery is the general manager of the last named company, and is also general manager of other Appleyard lines. The only interest which the Columbus Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company and the Columbus, Delaware and Marion road have in the loop is the right which the franchise gives to any interurban wishing to use it, and for which they must pay the Columbus, London and Springfield company. The loop is that part of the Columbus, London and Springfield lines which passes over Rich, Third, Gay, Water and Erie streets."

One Man Killed and Fifteen Hurt—Rescuers Used Axes on the Debris—Ran Into Smith.

Steubenville, O., Dec. 11.—Eastbound Panhandle train No. 14, due here at 2:35 p. m. ran into an open switch at New Cumberland Junction, east of here last night, and a head-on collision with a freight train engine on the westbound train resulted and one man was killed and 15 passengers injured.

The engine of the freight jumped and escaped injury.

Fifteen passengers received severe injuries, but none fatal. All of the injured were in the combination car and the second mail car.

The wreck train from here took four surgeons and brought all the injured to hospitals here.

Axes had to be used to chop many out of the wreckage in which they were pinioned.

Both engines, the combination car and one mail car were demolished. The injured are:

CATARRH A COMMON COMPLAINT.

Catarrh begins with a stubborn cold in the head, inflammation or soreness of the membrane or lining of the nose, discharge of mucus matter, headaches, neuralgia and difficult breathing, and even in this early stage is almost intolerable. But when the filthy secretions begin to drop back into the throat and stomach, and the blood becomes polluted and the system contaminated.

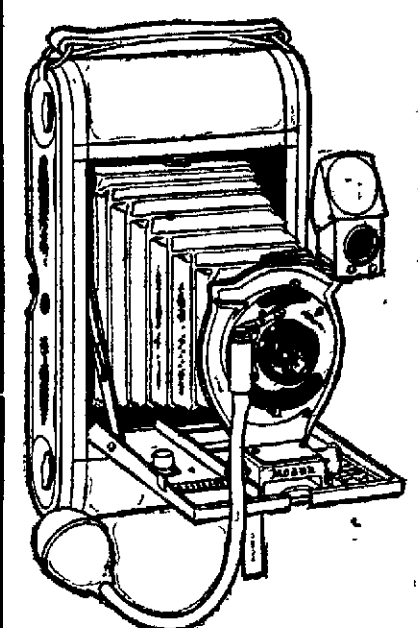

I had a continual headache, my cheeks had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath on, then the sufferer begins to realize what a disgusting and sickening disease Catarrh is. It affects the kidneys and stomach as well as other parts of the body. It is a constitutional disease and as inhaling mixtures, salves, ointments, etc., are never more than palliative or helpful, even in the beginning of Catarrh, what can you expect from such treatment when it becomes chronic and the whole system affected? Only such a remedy as S. S. S. can reach this obstinate, deep-seated disease and purge the blood of the catarrhal poison. S. S. S. purifies and builds up the diseased blood, and the inflamed membranes are healed and the excessive secretion of mucus ceases when new, rich blood is coming to the diseased parts, and a permanent cure is the result.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and a reliable remedy for Catarrh in all stages. Write if in need of medical advice; this will cost you nothing.

CLASH WITH GERMANY

Sure to Come Mac Arthur is Quoted as Saying In Report to Hawaiian Chief-Exodus from Fatherland a Menace to Island-General Urges Stronger Defense.

Honolulu, Dec. 11.—Much interest has been aroused here by a report of Colonel Jones, of the Hawaiian militia, to Governor Carter, of the Territory of Hawaii, in which Colonel Jones, in commenting on the strategic importance of the Hawaiian Islands and the need of strong defenses, quoted Major General MacArthur, United States army, as predicting a war in the immediate future between the United States and Germany, and that the principal scene of the fighting would be in the Pacific ocean, with the Hawaiian Islands as an objective point.

Major General MacArthur, who is still in Honolulu, having been here the past two weeks studying the military situation of the territory, stated that the report of Colonel Jones does not correctly represent his views in any particular and utterly misrepresents them in some.

Colonel Jones said his report to Governor Carter was based solely upon social conversations he had with Major General MacArthur, and that he only reported his expressions in substance, with a view of impressing Governor Carter with the need of strengthening the isolated islands from a military standpoint.

Colonel Jones said he took no notes of his conversation with General MacArthur and that his report was made from his memory. The conversation occurred during the social call which he and Colonel Soper, of the National Guard, made on General MacArthur. Colonel Jones was very much surprised that his report to Governor Carter was made public.

A few days ago General MacArthur was quoted as saying that the main feature of the defenses of the territory is the protection of the naval station at Pearl Harbor, and that the occupation of the other islands is not an important matter, from a military standpoint, while Pearl Harbor is maintained as a strong defensive position.

Major General MacArthur, it is alleged, said that the principle of the Pan-Germania interests is growing among German-Americans, few of whom volunteered in the war with Spain. He believes that German interests are growing to such an extent in South America that the strain upon the Monroe doctrine will eventually result in a conflict.

Hawaii being a strategic point, no nation, he says, will make any attempt upon the shore line of the Pacific states until the capture of the Hawaiian Islands has been effected.

Colonel Jones' report quotes General MacArthur as saying that the Pan-Germanic doctrine which is being spread throughout the world is being fostered and propagated by the imperial government in every possible way.

strong, and getting stronger, wherever German people settle, even among Germans who have been citizens of the United States for years.

In connection therewith one fact cannot be overlooked, to wit: There were few Germans in the American army during the war with Spain, so it is, indeed, that the presence of a German was noted as being a rare occurrence. The theater of operations is changing gradually into the Pacific. The German people are multiplying very rapidly and emigrating in large numbers, the tide of emigration being directed by the German government toward South America. The manufactured products of the German empire overbalance their consumption, so that a market has to be erected for the surplus. The known policy of the emperor is to acquire colonies which will provide markets for such overproduction and places to which the tide of emigration shall be directed for strengthening the Fatherland.

Throughout all South American countries the Germans are advancing in commercial power and prestige. The conclusion seems inevitable that the interests of Germany in South America, where today are large colonies numbering hundreds of thousands, preface another testing and straining of the Monroe doctrine, and in all probability a contest of arms between that power and the United States in the near future, in which event no one can now forecast the attitude of England and other European powers. Therefore it is the duty of the federal government to make itself as strong as possible, so as to be able to care for itself in any emergency. No nation or number of nations will be in a position to make an attack on the Pacific coast without first capturing these islands.

HOLDING IT BACK

Republicans Anxious to Keep Postal Frauds Out of Congress Long as Possible

Washington, Dec. 11.—The Senator Penrose resolution calling for an investigation of the postal frauds has now been got into a position in the Senate where nothing can be done with it except by unanimous consent until after a vote has been taken on the Cuban reciprocity bill on December 16. This enables the Republicans to avoid going on record on the question of an investigation until after the holidays, practically, whereby they gain some valuable time in which to see how best to shape their course with regard to this embarrassing matter.

If they are content with the situation the Democrats are no less so. The latter have plenty of material in reserve which they can use from time to time to call the attention of the country to the inadequacy of the investigation of frauds in the postoffice made by the officials of the department. By the judicious use of this material some of which is of a sensational character, the Democrats will keep the subject alive in a way that can hardly fail to have its effect in the next campaign.

It has become apparent what Representative Wanger of Pennsylvania was driving at when he got into the discussion of the Overstreet resolution passed in the House Wednesday, requesting the postmaster general to send to the House postoffice committee the papers relating to the postal frauds. Mr. Wanger wanted to get into the lime light by having the papers sent to the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department of which he is chairman.

Yesterday Mr. Wanger presented a resolution requesting the postmaster general to send the papers to his committee. But it looks as if the member from the Bucks-Montgomery district was too late. The House will hardly adopt his resolution, having already asked that the papers be sent to the postoffice committee.

LETTERS

Awaiting an Indiana Widow Who Thought She Had Only Three Days to Live.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Over 400 letters have arrived for Mrs. Janet Greenwood the Yanketown, Ind., widow, who left the hostelry a month ago with the avowed belief that she had but three days to live.

Mrs. Greenwood created quite a flutter of excitement at the time not only on account of her peculiar prediction, but through the manner in which she spent money in an effort to have a thoroughly good time in the short period of time which she believed was allotted to her.

After buying elaborate dinners for newsboys, treating washerwomen to automobile rides and spreading much sunshine and small change among her chance acquaintances, Mrs. Greenwood suddenly called a cab one morning and disappeared. After her departure an enormous bunch of correspondence arrived at the hotel for her, and it is suspected that many of the communications were satisfied with advice in regard to expeditious methods of spending money with the most entertaining results.

Professor John Dill Robertson says: "To bathe is to be dirty, for you thereby make a sewer of the skin." What were pores put in the human body for if they weren't to be used? The fact of the matter is a vast amount of waste matter is thrown off through the pores of the skin and nobody makes a mistake by keeping the pores open by frequent bathing. A cold bath in the morning is the proper thing, winter and summer. Hot baths at least twice a week before retiring.

School Girls

Mothers of young girls at this period of life, or the girl herself, are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; all such letters are strictly confidential; she has guided in a motherly way thousands of young women; and her advice is freely and cheerfully given.

School days are danger days for American girls. Often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality. Sometimes it is never recovered. Perhaps they are not over-careful about keeping their feet dry; through carelessness in this respect the monthly sickness is usually rendered very severe. Then begin ailments which should be removed at once, or they will produce constant suffering. Headache, faintness, slight vertigo, pains in the back and loins, irregularity, loss of sleep and appetite, a tendency to avoid the society of others, are symptoms all indicating that the organs that make her a woman need immediate attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

has helped many a young girl over this critical period. With it they have gone through their trials with courage and safety. With its proper use the young girl is safe from the peculiar dangers of school years and prepared for healthy womanhood.

A Young Chicago Girl "Studied Too Hard."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about 17 years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more."—LILLIE E. SINCLAIR, 17 E. 2nd St., Chicago, Ill.

"Miss Pratt Unable to Attend School."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months. I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—MISS ALMA PRATT, Holly, Mich.

Thousands of such testimonials prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life. Look for the bottle with Lydia E. Pinkham's face on it, and accept no other.

$5000

FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

INSURANCE

ON THE POWERS-MILLER COMPANY LOSS ADJUSTED.

Company Receives $65,500 on Loss of $85,000 After Deducting the Salvage

Probably never before in the history of big fire losses in Newark has such a satisfactory adjustment been made between the insurance companies and the losers, in as short a space of time as that of the Powers-Miller company's loss, which was finally settled Thursday afternoon, less than four days after the fire.

Six adjusters formed a committee and did the work of adjusting and apportioning the losses, the other companies agreeing to be bound by their findings.

Everything was so honest and above board, and the books and accounts kept in such a business-like manner by Secretary W. C. Miller, that the usual labor in such cases was greatly reduced.

Attorney Carl Norpell, representing the Powers-Miller company, presented a statement which he had drawn up and the schedules contained were accepted by the representatives of the insurance companies. Attorney C. W. Miller also assisted in arranging these schedules.

Every one of the 37 or 38 policies will be paid in full and the total amount of insurance that will be paid is $65,500. The loss is estimated by the insurance companies at $85,000, after deducting salvage.

Friday morning gangs of men were put to work digging out the ruins and storing the damaged goods in the rickety armory, in Fourth street, and in the Tucker building, in East Main street. The work is quite dangerous, and Secretary Miller, of the Powers-Miller company, Friday morning, took out accident policies of insurance on the men at work there.

The Powers-Miller company has zoos in the store damaged, only by smoke and water. As soon as possible the temporary store will be open. The damage done to the Union block will be repaired and the Powers-Miller company before many months will be doing business at the old stand.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Auditorium Saturday night, December 12, Peck's Bad Boy will put in his annual appearance dressed up in brand new scenery and costumes. He will also have an entirely new play, new songs, new dances and new and novel specialties. Duets, trios and quartets from the popular operas will be well sung and properly and handsomely dressed. It is not the same old play we have seen for years, but is brand new from start to finish.

SOLO TALENT WITH CREATORE.

The Creatore Band Organization, which will be heard here at the Auditorium Monday, December 14, abounds in solo talent. The premier, of course, is Mme. Barilli, the eminent soprano, who is the vocal soloist at all the concerts. She has one of the best of clear and pure soprano voices and most satisfactory Italian methods at present before the public, and with a beautiful and queenly presence, she has won her every audience the many times she has appeared with Creatore on his tours. The instrumental soloists are not, as a rule, put on the program as such, but they are always in evidence in the many solo parts of the great operatic selections which are so much admired and wondered at during the Creatore concerts. The personnel of the make-up of the band abounds in some of the best players that have been heard, many of them famous in Italy and already attracting attention and winning fame in this country. No one can be a star in an organization which is so much dominated by the leader. Creatore is the whole thing when he leads, and no matter what the merits of individual performers, Creatore so far overshadows all else in the eyes of the public that he alone is seen and cheered for the grand success which is attained.

MUSIC

Was Kept Up While Plucky Priest Put Out the Flames That Were Consuming a Girl.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 11.—In the midst of a service in the church of the Sacred Heart in this city, the light and filmy confirmation gown of pretty Margaret Freeman caught fire and instantly she was enveloped in a sheet of flame.

Rev. Father Wm. McKean leaped from the pulpit and made a rush for the pew, upon which the unfortunate girl had already fallen writhing in agony.

As he ran down the aisle he signaled the organist to keep on playing, and motioned to the choir not to stop its hymn. With this accompaniment of sacred music, and without a move from any one else to assist him—for by this time those near by were so dazed and frightened they could not move—the brave priest beat out the flames with his bare hands.

As the girl was removed, Father McKean saw signs of a panic among the children. With a stern "Do not leave your pews, children," the priest walked calmly to the pulpit and took up the hymn with the choir. Miss Freeman is in a serious condition.

EXPLOSIONS

OF MOTOR AND BOILER CAUSES BIG FIRE IN PITTSBURG.

Six Men Were Seriously Burned and Another is Supposed to be Under the Debris.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 11.—Fire broke out at the Armstrong cork factory at 23rd street and Allegheny Valley railroad, at 9:30 this morning. The fire started in the grinding room on the second floor and gained rapid headway. About 600 men and girls are employed at the factory and 100 girls were carried by the police and firemen from the second story by means of ladders. The following were seriously burned and removed to the West Penn Hospital:

Geo. Friel, of 21st street; Jas. Keenan, of 41st street; Thomas Hannan, of 25th street; Andrew Kerr of Stanton street; Thomas Fitzgerald, Smallman street, and Wm. Ritzford.

The missing: Robert Hanlin, residing at 28th street, supposed to be buried under the debris on the first floor. After a brief investigation it was ascertained that the fire and wreck were due to the double explosion of a motor and a boiler. It was ascertained that the motor was the first to give way and some of the fragments being driven against the boiler with tremendous force, upset the boiler and caused the second explosion, which did the most damage.

KAISER'S ILLNESS NOT SERIOUS.

Berlin, Dec. 11.—Die Kunkult Review in an article on the Kaiser's illness today, takes a most optimistic view of his majesty's ailment. The article concludes with the following words: Every human probability is that His majesty will continue to reign for several decades.

CONFERENCE

Held at Washington by Ohio Republican Leaders at Hanna's House—Foraker Not Invited.

Washington, Dec. 11.—An important conference, dealing with political topics of the Buckeye state, was held at the home of Senator Hanna this morning. Most prominent among those present were: Governor-elect Myron T. Herrick and George B. Cox, the Cincinnati "boss." The main topics of discussion were the organization of the new legislature, which will return Mr. Hanna to the senate, appointments to be made by Governor Herrick shortly after his inauguration in January and changes in the municipal code which was adopted by the last legislature in extraordinary session and which are desired by Republican managers in various sections of the state. Senator Foraker was not invited to the conference, nor did he attend.

Those present at the conference agreed to favor the adoption of the new school code, a salary law for county officials and a law authorizing county boards of elections to supervise elections in both counties and cities.

REORGANIZED

Will be the Pittsburg Steamship Company, a U. S. Steel Company Subsidiary Corporation.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 11.—The Pittsburg Steamship company, a subsidiary corporation of the United States Steel corporation, is to be reorganized under new officers and operated from general offices in Cleveland instead of from Pittsburg. This announcement was made when the resignation of President Daniel M. Clemson as president of the company was announced. President Clemson resigned simultaneously with Vice President A. B. Wolfen, of the same company, their resignations to take effect the first of the year. A successor is to be appointed to take charge of practically these two offices, who will have general offices in Cleveland and will direct the movement of 112 vessels owned and operated by the company from the terminal of the line in the Lake city.

Mayor Johnson's Daughter

New York, Dec. 11.—Miss Bessie Johnson, daughter of Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland, made her debut on the professional stage yesterday under the stage name of Elizabeth Flourney. The theater was crowded and she received a curtain call in "Gertha's Father," given at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. Mayor Johnson denies that his daughter is going on the stage and says the performance yesterday was only part of her educational education.

LASSED

And Hauled Ashore After He Had Escaped Pursuers—Ohio Boy's Strenuous Hoboken Escape.

New York, Dec. 11.—Frank Stone, a Youngstown (O.) youth, after attempting to cash a check on the First National bank of Hoboken, which he is alleged to have secured by robbing a saloonist, sprang into the Hudson when pursued and would have escaped to New York had not a tugboat hand lassoed him and dragged him from the water.

Stone, hardly more than a boy, arrived in Hoboken Wednesday. That night, it is alleged, he entered the saloon of Herman Hosner, of No. 515 Madison street, Hoboken, and robbed the cash drawer of all its contents. Among the stealings was a check on the First National bank for $15.

Upon discovering that he had been robbed, Hosner notified the bank to refuse to cash the check. Cashier Robert McKaig was at the window when Stone entered. McKaig started from the window to capture the lad when the latter attempted to seize the cash that lay in large quantities on the counter. The cashier caught him and attempted to hold him, but the boy managed to wrench himself loose and bolted for the street.

He ran to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western pier, dove into the water and was making for the New York shore. A tug was passing, and seeing what he believed was a drowning man, one of the crew made a lasso of a rope, which he threw around Stone's neck and pulled him on board. He was then taken ashore and arrested by Detective Sergeant Nelson.

"I gave you a little run for your money, didn't I?" said the prisoner as he was led away to jail.

CONTEST

For Hoyt Fortune Will Probably be Continued in New York.

Tiffin, O., Dec. 11.—It is possible that the contest for the Hoyt Fortune will be taken to the Courts of New York. A sensation was sprung in open court here yesterday when a statement signed by Frank Guss, the plaintiff, was filed. In it he claimed that he is represented by Finefrock & Garver, of Fremont, instead of Bacon & Spurrier. Immediately thereafter Garver filed a motion to have the suit dismissed.

Should the motion to dismiss be granted one of the claimants will doubtless file a suit in New York, where most of the real estate is located, to set aside the will.

Mrs. Hoyt was the wealthy and eccentric divorced wife of Reuben M. Hoyt, of New York. She came to this city three years ago and bought a magnificent house, furnished it like a palace and in it held herself rivaling those of an Oriental princess. She finally died, leaving five wills in nearly all of which she left the bulk of her fortune of several hundred thousand dollars to her companion and attorney, Judge J. P. Bunn.

Would Consent to Live With Her Husband if His Income Was $5,000 a Year

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Marie F. Bennett has been sued for a divorce in the superior court by her husband, Leonard Bennett. Bennett says they were married in London July 8, 1892. Several witnesses testify that they have seen letters from Mrs. Bennett in which she said she would never live with her husband until he could increase his income to $5,000 per year. The papers filed show no other reason for the wife's refusal to live with her husband.

HENRY DIEMER

A Former Wealthy Bookmaker, Died an Outcast in New York's Chinatown Friday.

New York, Dec. 11.—Henry Diemer, a former bookmaker, died early this morning on the steps of a Chinese restaurant on Pell street. He was discovered sitting out in the cold by James Moriarity, who asked him why he did not get up. Diemer replied that he wanted some air, and in a few minutes fell over dead. Diemer came from a wealthy Harlem family, but developed sporting proclivities and became a bookmaker. He was known all over the country. Ill luck came and Diemer became a tout and then became an outcast in Chinatown.

CENTENNIAL

ANNIVERSARY BEING PLANNED
FOR GRANVILLE IN 1905

When the Classic Village Settled by
New Englanders Will be 100
Years Old.

Granville, O., Dec. 11.—A movement has been quietly but effectively started here to make the preliminary arrangements for a grand home coming and celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Granville.

Granville, Licking county, was settled in November, 1805, by a colony of pioneer Congregationalists from Granville, Mass., and was largely a church settlement at first. In the process of time, however, the early Congregational church became the Presbyterian church.

It is proposed to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of this settlement, which will occur in November 1905, in a grand and appropriate manner. The project is just in its infancy, and the various features of the home coming and centennial have not yet been fully elaborated. Suffice it to say now that there will be religious features of the celebration, emphasizing the original characteristics of the pioneer settlers and the subsequent religious development of their descendants.

The educational features of Granville, which has been noted as the seat of two flourishing ladies' colleges for many years, and the gentlemen's college for over seventy years, will be especially prominent in the celebration. In addition to this there will be various historical features that will tend to make the celebration interesting.

When it is recalled that these three institutions (one of which has not been in operation for some time) were in operation for many years—Denison university for over seventy years, and sending out graduating classes each year, constituting a distinguished alumni that is spread all over the world, as missionaries, etc., it will readily be seen what a grand home coming Granville will enjoy in connection with her centennial if only the living graduates of her schools of learning, who can, will attend.

A committee of ladies has been appointed by the various ladies' organizations of Granville, the King's Daughters and other religious organizations, the Travelers' club and other literary organizations, Daughters of Rebekah, etc., to take charge of the preliminary arrangements for the grand centennial.

There is no place in the country where, from the character of its citizens, the character of its institutions and its widely known reputation by reason of its graduates, could a more interesting or profitable centennial be held than in Granville.
